

Central New Mexico Community College/Albuquerque Police Department Articulation Agreement

The purpose of this agreement between Central New Mexico Community College (CNM) and the Albuquerque Police Department (APD) is to grant academic credit to individuals who successfully complete the APD basic officer's accreditation training program, the Police Service Aid training program or the Citizen Police Academy. This training requirement is to satisfy the credit hour requirements established by state law. CNM personnel have reviewed the training program curriculums and the qualifications of the Academy instructors and have determined that selected Academy courses are appropriate for CNM credit. The Academy will maintain grades and records as required by CNM. To receive CNM credits, the certified officer must:

- (1) Have successfully completed the Law Enforcement Academy/Field Training after 1 January 2007, or the Police Service Aid Academy, or the Citizen Police Academy after January 1, 2010
- (2) Be enrolled in Central New Mexico Community College as a Criminal Justice major.

Individuals who have successfully completed the APD Academy and who meet the other requirements of this agreement shall be awarded full credit for the following Criminal Justice core courses:
